

How to sell 'emergency corn' for 30c premium

Announcements of the procedure for handling emergency corn for the 30c premium has just been released. From this release Mr. Pops of the Arlington Heights Roller Mills and Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes have worked out the following announcement:

1. Eligible corn must grade No. 3 or better. The bottom grade may be No. 3 with a test weight of at least 50 lbs.

2. Delivery is to a country warehouse or elevator which merely receives, shells, and ships. The warehouse does not take title, own, nor pay for corn.

3. The seller makes a sales contract to the Commodity Credit Corporation, who receive, have a Federal Grade, and settles. Corn that will qualify will receive the 30c premium, and other corn will move into regular trade channels and market price. The local handler does not determine the official grade.

4. To facilitate sale of corn it is suggested that those who want to consign, report at once to their local country warehouse who will advise and give an opinion of possibilities of securing the 30c premium. As much as a car load must be assembled, and as it is delivered and shelled the local warehouse man will watch the corn being delivered and notify the farmer when the grade is running too low in his opinion to qualify. But in no case can the local warehouse man actually determine what the U. S. Grader will set on a car. Every effort will be made to load out corn that will pass, and if possible secure a U. S. Grader to accept corn at the time of delivery. This all depends on those who wish to sell corn to make it known to the local warehouse and give him opportunity to make his cars up.

There is bound to be a lot of dissatisfaction because corn due to the bad fall of 1945 is grading low, and frequently the inside of a crib will run lower in weight and quality.

District No. 25 board has dinner meeting

The Board of Education of District No. 25 held a short organization meeting April 17 at the North School after which they adjourned to meet at Blum's Restaurant in Wheeling for dinner. At the dinner Robert R. Blackburn, retiring member of the Board of Education, and Melvin Kurtz, newly elected member, were guests of the other members and the superintendent.

At the organization meeting, the secretary reported on the regular election on April 13, at which N. M. Lattof was elected president, and A. E. Goldthwaite and M. L. Kurtz were elected as members of the Board.

Mr. Goldthwaite was chosen as secretary by the Board of Education, to succeed Robert Blackburn, who had served the Board in that capacity for the past five years.

Cadet flier falls from plane, but floats to safety

Stuart Wilson of Radburn, N. J., cadet from Glenview training base, fell out of his plane while doing a slow roll over Cuba township, and lived to tell the tale. He managed to pull the safety cord as he hurtled down, and floated to earth 5,500 feet.

Wilson was circling about the countryside Saturday morning when the accident occurred. The plane crashed in a wood section in the Chicago Highlands subdivision. It narrowly missed a residence and snapped off several trees as it came down within 400 feet from the house.

A meeting will be held on Monday, April 29, at the Mt. Prospect Country Club to organize a scratch golf league. Last call for taxes

It's the last call for any taxpayers who have not yet paid the first installment of their real estate tax or their personal property bill.

The township collectors will close their offices with the close of banking hours on Saturday.

Penalty date is May 1st at the County building and this week's rush at the down town office has been terrific.

Country town property owners have had the opportunity to make their payments to their local collectors speedily and in comfort, but if there are any who have not yet made their payments they have until about Saturday noon to do so.

So it's the last call, the deadline is right at hand and there just isn't a chance to put it off a few days longer.

Second installment of the real estate tax will be due in August with the penalty date September 1st.

Milk truck aids rural firemen in farm blaze

A Chicago milk truck aided Mt. Prospect and Bensenville Rural Fire Departments Friday afternoon, April 12 at the Rittmueller farm on route 83, south of Mt. Prospect. It was a bad fire and water and smoke damage to the residence was considerable. Volunteer workers removed a large part of the furniture on the first floor.

Cause of the fire is unknown. The residence is used as two apartments, occupied by Mrs. Elia Rittmueller and the family of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Becker and their four children, the youngest of which is three months and the eldest five years.

Mrs. Rittmueller was returning from the mail box about 2:00 o'clock when the fire broke out. She hastily placed all the children in an auto which was driven a distance from all buildings. In the meantime the Mt. Prospect Fire Department was called and on their arrival the aid of the Bensenville Department was obtained. The milk truck was just returning with a load of empty cans. The driver made a number of trips supplying the needed water to fight the fire, without which it would have been impossible to get it under control.

Friends and neighbors not only helped save property the day of the fire and helped in the care of the children, but many of them spent several days in cleaning up the place to again make it livable.

Autos crash, cars wrecked

A car crash at Palatine road and Highway 83, early Saturday evening, resulted in two badly damaged automobiles. According to an eye witness, Delbert Forst of Fox River Grove, driving westward on Palatine road made one of those near stops, before crossing highway 83. When crossing the highway an onrushing car traveling south driven by C. J. Bircher, of Chicago, plowed right into the Forst vehicle. Both cars were so badly damaged that they had to be towed away.

In appreciation

Honor Bill Miles for years of service to Heights scouts

Troop 7 will hold its 20th anniversary celebration April 30 in Arlington Heights and since Bill Miles had such an outstanding part in its development, the council members wish to express their sincere appreciation for Bill's part in the success of Troop 7.

Bill Miles, one of the foremost Scouters who has had an extremely active career in scouting, located in Stonegate back in the pioneer days of Arlington Hts. His love for the great outdoors led him into such activities as hunting, and camping, which especially fitted him for the career of scouting.

Scouting was pretty much in its infancy at that time so when a man with Bill's outdoor experience and knowledge met up with the Boy Scout Council officers he was received with wide open arms and immediately appointed a District Commissioner. In 1934 he was appointed to the Council Executive Board. In 1936 he resigned so that he might devote all of his spare time to the position of Scoutmaster of Troop 7.

Bill continued as Scoutmaster until 1942 when he resigned as Scoutmaster and was appointed Staff Advisor on Camping. He continued on the Council and at present is co-chairman and advisor to camp committee chairman.

Bill not only loved to do things in scouting, but he also wished to increase his knowledge by study. He received many certificates and awards for his efforts, among these are certificates for Elements of Scout Leadership, 1933; Principals of Scout Leadership, 1937; Specialization, 1939; Five year Service Award as Scoutmaster, 1941; Health, Safety and First Aid, 1942; Troop Camping, 1940; Advanced Certificate, 1940; two weeks camping award, 1942.

In 1942 he was awarded the coveted Scoutmaster's Key which many have tried to attain, but gave up as too difficult an achievement. In 1944 Bill was presented the Silver Beaver Award which is an honorary award given for outstanding contributions of Leadership to Scouting.

Miss August Schloman, Palatine, sister of William and Henry Schloman, Arlington Heights, ran into the side of a Northwestern locomotive early Tuesday morning at the Palatine depot. She is at the Palatine Community hospital suffering from shock and a fractured right arm.

Miss Schloman was attempting to catch the 6:46 south bound train, which was in the station at the time. She did not see the approaching fast train from the south, which is known as the Elroy milk train. The engine crew witnessed the accident and brought their train to a stop.

Many attend rural youth session here

A very successful Rural Youth meeting was held at the Arlington high school cafeteria. Everyone had a good time square dancing and participating in the group games planned for the evening.

George Hansen, Elgin, consented to teach the beginners how to square dance and then called a few square dances for the main part of the entertainment of the evening.

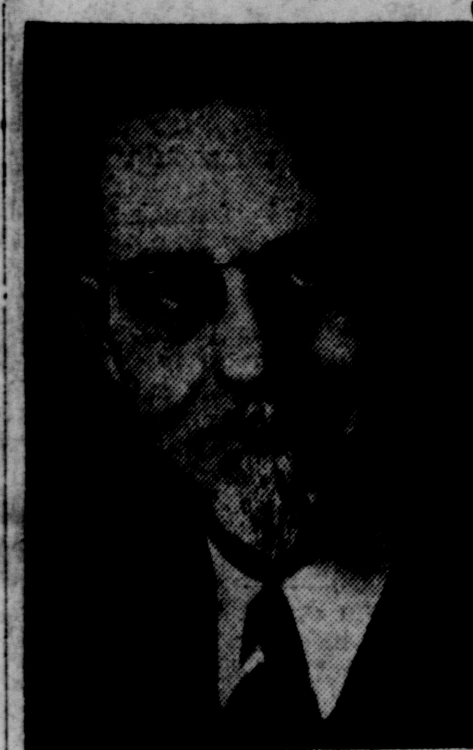

Arrangements were made for the next meeting of the Rural Youth group. Mr. Hughes, Cook County Farm Adviser, has consented to show his colored film on his Florida vacation. These are very colorful and interesting pictures and we are sure you will all enjoy them.

This group of Rural Youth is just organizing and any rural young people are invited to attend the next meeting. For an evening of enjoyable fun for all, be sure to come.

Friday, May 10, was chosen by the group for the next meeting to be held at the Arlington Hts. high school cafeteria. The meeting will start promptly at 8:00 p. m. Entertainment and refreshments are being planned along with the movies.

Rural Fire League issues warning

Henry L. Moehling, secretary of the Palatine Rural Fire Department has issued the following warning to residents of the area served by that organization. Other rural fire departments are in the same position.

WARNING
Because of the dry spring careful attention should be given to grass fires. Do not start a grass fire unless you have plenty of help to confine the blaze to your own area. Do not endanger the property of others as building materials for repairs or replacements are very critical.

Members of the rural fire department will not answer prairie fire alarms. They receive no pay for their services and they can not leave their regular jobs, except in emergencies. Play safe! Avoid prairie fires.

By order of the Palatine Rural Fire Department.

Ban golf practice in school yard

The board of education of school district 25, Arlington Hts., request that all children and others refrain from practicing golf on the school grounds of the North and South schools at all times, both during the school year and summer vacation.

This request is made in the interest of the protection of property and the safety of others who might be occupying the playgrounds.

Cop's hunch solves teen age robberies

Hugh Donnelly, county police officer at Deer Grove and Elk Grove forest preserves, had a hunch the other day that proved so good that the Chicago police were able to solve three car robberies and a purse snatching case. The youths who confessed to these crimes are only 14 years old. Their parents, who were so busy earning money that they paid no attention to their sons, would hardly believe the crimes could have been perpetrated by their offspring.

Due to the youth of the boys, Judge C. M. Behrens, Arlington Heights is holding the case open thirty days when they will either be sent to the detention home or charges dropped, depending, says Mr. Behrens on the evidence presented that the individual parents are assuming their responsibility to their boys.

The judge in the hearing last week, blamed the parents more than the boys for the trouble the boys are in.

Officer Donnelly stopped the boys for speeding and during the subsequent investigation, contacted the state police and learned that the Plymouth car they were driving was stolen two days earlier from I. R. Gurstein, 3009 Cicero ave. In order to get money to buy the car the boys had snatched a woman's purse at Irving Park and Elston ave., Chicago.

In the confession made by the speeders, two other boys were implicated and it was learned that three cars had been stolen by the youthful gang. The parents of the ringleader were both working and allowed their son to shift for himself.

Open drive for funds to fight cancer here

Chicago and Cook County citizens will participate in an all-out intensified effort to further combat the death toll of cancer as part of a national campaign to raise $12,000,000 for greater control of the dread disease.

Highlight of the first week of the campaign in Cook County will be the collection of contributions at all motion picture houses in the Loop.

This year, a novel and simple method of contributing to the campaign has been effected. All that is necessary to contribute is to address an envelope to "Cancer", insert the contribution and mail.

While the statistics on the toll taken yearly by cancer are discouraging constantly increasing efforts such as the present fundraising campaign give hope that substantial progress can be made in controlling the disease. These three vital things must be done, and will be given further impetus through adequate funds: (1) provide far more and much better facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer; (2) expand widely the scientific research attack which will lead to more effective treatment and possibly even the elimination entirely of cancer; and (3) spread knowledge everywhere of the danger signals of cancer and urge people to consult a doctor in time to be saved.

Lee implicated Walter Christie, 16, and Louis Winkelman, 15. All three boys signed confessions. They overturned and threw around about everything that is movable in the school, tore an electric clock from the wall, smashed it, spread cologne or powder on the floors and did about everything naughty that they could think about. Jno. Mecklenberg, a member of the school board, signed the complaints that brought about the arrest and booking of the boys.

Feds solve radio jamming in Lake County

After a week's search Harry Quandt, radio technician for Lake County, and federal communication investigator, last Thursday discovered what was causing interference to the county police radio. The interference had baffled the investigators until they found that it was caused by a new set of fluorescent lights in the National Tea Co. store at Milwaukee and Cook avenues, Libertyville.

While the dispatcher could broadcast to squad cars without trouble, at least as long as the cars were far enough away from Libertyville, he was unable to receive transmission from the cars. Interference generated by the lights jammed the receiver located at the county farm. A whizzing noise kept up from 7:45 a. m. to 6:15 p. m. every day except Wednesday when it stopped at 12:30 p. m. Federal agents with mobile locators narrowed the interference to Cook avenue just east of Milwaukee. Further tests located the exact source of the trouble. Police Chief Joseph Saam of Libertyville, aided in the investigation. Changes in the lighting system were made to remove the interference.

Noted preacher at Presbyterian church Sunday

The Rev. Paul Griswold Macy, Director of Midwest Office of the World Council of Churches, will be guest-preacher in Arlington Heights Presbyterian church Sunday, April 28, at 11 o'clock.

REV. PAUL G. MACY

A student of international affairs, Mr. Macy is one of the American leaders in the ecumenical movement. In the summer of 1943, he served as Acting Director of the Christian Mission on World Order which visited 100 cities in the United States to call the churches to study and action as their contribution toward the creation of a just and durable peace.

His interest in international relations led him to join the American Seminar to Europe in 1925 where the group studied the political, economic, social and religious life of many nations at the League of Nations headquarters at Geneva. He joined a similar group in 1926 who made a study in Mexico.

He has served as lecturer and dean of young peoples' summer conferences and is widely known as a speaker. He taught the Bible at George Williams College in Chicago and public speaking at the University of Toledo. He was elected Moderator of the State Congregational Churches of Ohio, the highest state office of the church.

Foot prints bring confessions from school marauders

Three Elk Grove boys were taken into custody last Friday by county police officers Baumbardt and Shabel for damages in the Elk Grove school at Higgins and Touhy roads the previous night. The boys had wrecked the interior of the school to the extent of $400 damage. They had left behind footprints, which was the evidence that brought about the questioning of Lee Taylor, 16 years old.

Lee implicated Walter Christie, 16, and Louis Winkelman, 15. All three boys signed confessions. They overturned and threw around about everything that is movable in the school, tore an electric clock from the wall, smashed it, spread cologne or powder on the floors and did about everything naughty that they could think about. Jno. Mecklenberg, a member of the school board, signed the complaints that brought about the arrest and booking of the boys.

During the week haircuts will be 85c with $1.00 for Saturdays. Children's haircuts will be 60c before five o'clock, 75c after five o'clock and 85c on Saturdays. Shaves are 50c at all times.

Ransack locked car by cutting top open

A locked car does not mean protection to its contents when there is a convertible top, so Mrs. Bernard Radford, Arlington Heights, discovered this week. Her car was parked in her driveway at 234 So. Mitchell. Marauders gained entrance to the car by slitting the top with a knife.

Two truck drivers get a surprise

Drivers of the Meeske food store truck and of the Mayfair Rug truck did not see each other and when they met at the intersection of Belmont and Miner streets, Arlington Heights, both were very much surprised. Damage to the Meeske truck was considerable.

Four killed in accidents

Deaths caused by rifle bullet, autos and team runaway

A rifle bullet, autos and a team runaway caused the death of four persons in northwest Cook county the past week. Nancy Lowrey, 12, was killed Friday, April 19, by a rifle bullet while playing in St. Mary's woods, near the training school by that name. Paul A. Soenksen, 21, 5 S. Maple st., Mt. Prospect was killed in an auto accident at the intersection of River road and Route 58 Thursday evening. Bernice Kamp, 409 Spring street, Barrington, died Tuesday in St. Francis hospital, Elgin, following an accident in the early hours of Sunday morning in Deer Grove forest preserve. Herman Kublank, Schaumburg township, died Wednesday afternoon at the Palatine Community hospital following a fall from a wagon when horses suddenly started up.

Make ballistics tests
The police have not yet found the gun from which the bullet was fired that caused the death of the twelve year old Des Plaines girl. They are sending all rifles that are found in the Des Plaines area to Chicago for ballistics tests. Three Des Plaines boys who were hunting in the woods area have been cleared of blame by such tests. The bullet removed from the brain of the girl is clearly marked and gives evidence that it was shot from a cheap rifle.

The girl was one of nine children who were playing in the woods along Des Plaines river, three blocks south of Central road. When she fell from a log into shallow water, her companions pulled her to the bank, unaware that she had been shot. Four boys appeared on the scene about that time asking if anyone had been shot. They left, promising to send help. They did not return and the county police are checking the area to learn the names of all boys who possess guns of the right caliber.

Nancy was first taken to the Northwestern hospital and later removed to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, where she died that night. Funeral services were held Monday from the Lauterbach & Oehler Des Plaines chapel, Rev. Potter of the Methodist church officiating.

Mt. Prospect boy killed
Two war veterans, one a brother of the boy killed, are in Hines hospital as a result of the accident on River road and Route 58, April 18. Roy Soenksen has both legs broken. Edward Bruser, 37, Wheeling, has a broken left leg. Paul and Roy were traveling north on River road, with Paul driving. He made a left turn to route 58, into the path of the Bruser car. Paul was pinned under the car and was pronounced dead when taken by ambulance to the Northwest hospital. The others, both World War II veterans were taken in an army ambulance to Hines.

Fall from wagon kills farmer
Herman Kublank, 78, of Schaumburg, was loading corn with the aid of his brother, Edward, at the George Kellogg farm, Herman on the wagon and Edward doing the pitching, when the horses suddenly started up. Herman was thrown beneath the wheels of the wagon and received such internal injuries that he lived only a few hours. He was taken to the Palatine hospital.

An inquest was held Thursday morning. Officers Cameron and Delco of the sheriff's office were assigned to the case.

Girl dies following
early morning accident
An auto ride through Deer Grove in the early hours of Sunday brought about the death of Bernice Kamp. Her companion, Forrest C. Pennell, also of Barrington was injured. The accident occurred near Dundee and Quentin roads where the auto hit a tree. Bernice received internal injuries and was taken to the Elgin hospital. Official Kowolski and Zuhman made the official report to the coroner at the inquest here Thursday morning.

Camping fire
scout cabin

A cabin belonging to St. Alphonsus boy scouts in Deer Grove forest preserve was destroyed by fire Friday night. Because of the holiday there were many visitors to the preserve and it is presumed that a camp fire had been improperly handled.

The fire was discovered about ten o'clock and the Palatine fire department was called. They were able to save one of the cabins but a building with a capacity of sixty boys was destroyed. A number of trees in the area were also burned.

Folk festival

The Chicago Folk Festival will hold its Fourth Annual program on May 3 on Friday night at Orchestra Hall. The Chicago Folk Festival is a non-profit association, educational in character, aiming at the preservation and at the presentation of folk music both of American and foreign whether expressed in dance or in song.

Ten nationally known folk dancing groups which have appeared yearly in similar events in the largest cities of our country will present some typical dances and songs of their respective countries of origin. Among these groups this year are the Hawaiian dancers, the Polish dancers, the Lithuanian dancers, and nationally known Swiss Family Fraunfelder.

SUES FOR DEATH

J. A. Culumber, administrator of the estate of Emmitt Culumber, has filed suit in Circuit court against Linus Scott for $10,000 damages for causing Emmitt's death in an automobile accident March 3. Deceased was riding as a passenger in an automobile on Mannheim road that day. Scott was driving a car on Irving Park boulevard. There is a stop sign at the intersection of these two roads. It is alleged Scott ignored it and a collision resulted in which Emmitt was fatally injured, dying the next day. It is charged Scott failed to give the right-of-way.

Kelly's Kolumn

STRICTLY '45

In case our village has a slight tinge of red this week, here are some of the individuals who might be responsible.

Ray Little left Tuesday to be inducted into the service after three or four false alarms. The poor boy started college at least two times that I know of, only to get a call to report to ye locale draft board. No sooner would he burn his books than they'd change their minds. This time he won't believe it till he's finished basic.

All kinds of people were home for spring vacation. Lois S. taubenbauer, Monmouth, arrived in Mt. Peanuts Saturday afternoon, while Pat Tuttle left Lindenwood to spend the Easter holidays at home.

Buddy Dick finished off the last of his 60 day furlough with his Sheeagoan friend Eddie Nosal who has deserted the city for Arlington the last three weeks ends.

Buddy and Eddie reported to Great Lakes Monday to begin a two year hitch in the Marine Corps. Ken Koenig of the cross-did knives and forks division, left G. L. sans a pass to join in the celebrations and welcome them into the establishment. The personal touch you know.

Whatcha know! Letters from Ray Lipovitch and Jim Scherf. I won't be stingy—here they are: April 12, 1946.

Hi Kelly:
Remember me, the civilian who wanted to be a sailor and now the sailor who wants to be a civilian. I am here in California enjoying the beautiful palm trees and the beautiful town of San Diego from a drill field. This navy life is fine though? They send you out in the drill field and march you until you drop. When that happens they see whether you still have hot water in your veins. If you have, they make you march for another two hours. Oh, don't get me wrong. We get a chance to rest for five minutes every five hours. All kidding aside (but whose kidding with jokes' bad. We get plenty of "UGH" food to eat, a roof to sleep under. Of course we have to place buckets here and there to catch the liquid sunshine that seeps through. They keep us in shape with a few calisthenics every day.

After the day is done, when we are good and disgusted, the C. O. tells us where to escape so the guards can keep up their target practice in case we should take his hint. Well, can't think of much more to write now, lucky you. Say hello to the gang for me. I'll be back in town in eight weeks if I live thru it. If you get any time to write, drop a line or more and tell some of the other kids to write. I like to hear my name called at mail call better than at any other time. Ray Lipovitch, U. S. N. Training Center, Co. 46-145, San Diego, California.

Uncle Sam didn't think I was too good a infantry man, so he decided to put me in something a little easier and sent me here to Morrison Field. They are trying (I use that word "trying" very loosely) to make a radio operator out of me. So far all I've heard or done is listen to "dit", "dah", "dah" all day long till I'm nearly crazy from the noise. They say all radio operators are crazy—guess I have a start.

"Aside from the worries of school I've been enjoying myself pretty much, swimming, flying, and all the other things that I did back home? Last Wednesday I went up for my first night "hop"—it was over Miami with a full moon—sure was beautiful picture to see all the colored lights of the city and the moon shining on the ocean. The only trouble was it didn't last long enough—going 200 mph it doesn't take long before you are there and gone already. I'm going to try and make another one again soon—hope it's as nice then.

"Went to the beach a few weeks ago to try and brown up a little. Results, a very painful sunburn that wasn't too pleasant for awhile. Guess I was too much of a "eager beaver."

Jim's address is Pvt. Charles J. Scherf, 39761643, Sqn. C, 1103 A AF BU, Morrison Field, Florida.

HI TIMES

Palatine High is buzzin' this week with preparations for the coming Palatine Relays, one of the main Spring sport events in this area. Forty schools will be "in the running". It is hoped every one will be able to send representatives to participate in the event, which is scheduled to begin at 10:00 a. m. Saturday morning, April 27, and last throughout the day. Highlighting the affair will be the crowning of the Queen of the Palatine Relays, who will reign over the track this year and award the prizes.

OH! UNHAPPY DAY!

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

Marryin' Sam has set April 27 as the official date this year for Sadie Hawkins Day because Spring is such a purty time for weddin's. The race will begin at 5:00 p. m. Saturday after the Palatine Relays so all the eligible bachelors won't have a chance of gittin' away. All the fortunate wimmen of Skunk Hollow who have ketchd husbands will drag them to the Skunk Hollow Brawl to celebrate this memorable day. We heard there will be many folks from Dogpatch on hand to join in the celebrashuns such as Daisy Mae, Lil' Abner, Mammy and Pappy Yokum and Moonbeam McSwine. Grab your man, gals, and haul him to the Skunk Hollow Brawl at 8:30 p. m. in the Arlington High School.

Saay, not bad! and other sounds were heard issuing forth from the Arlington Field House last Saturday night. Keerect!! They were talking about the new Youth Center there. Super is the word for it.

Now to confirm that previous description of the color scheme. True, the colors are red, yellow, rose and fuchsia. BUT, not all in the same room. The lounge is a pale lemon yellow with shiny chrome and green leather furniture. Looks good enough to eat but to save the wear and tear on our uppers they've installed a snack bar with more edible material. Then there's the rose room equipped with a juke box and designed for dancing. Even the lights are a soft rose. Lining this room are tables and

Son baptized

Easter Sunday afternoon was a special occasion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Pingel, Higgins Road, Arlington Hts., when their infant son, named Wayne Harold, was baptized. The baby was born April 27 at Evanston, Illinois.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. V. Stephan of the St. Peter Lutheran church. All of the grandparents were present, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pingel and Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Moehling, as well as four uncles, veterans of World War 2, Lawrence Pingel, Wilbur Pingel, Harold Moehling and Barney Moehling. Sponsors were John H. Pingel, Lawrence E. Pingel, Herman J. Moehling and Barney Moehling.

Immediately following the baptism a dinner was served to twenty-four guests. During this time a request number in honor of the event, "That Little Boy of Mine", was heard over station WMRO.

Joint installation

The VFW joint installation of officers will be held at the Arlington Heights Legion home on Friday, April 26, 8 p. m., instead of the previously announced meeting place.

chairs made of modernistic bleached wood. About 200 attended the opening which marked the beginning of a new era for teen-agers in Arlington.

SUES FOR $10,000

Kathleen Roche, a minor aged 3 years, by her father, Thomas Roche, has sued Alfred Falk in circuit court for $10,000 for injuring her with his truck. Falk is a scavenger and was gathering trash on Spruce Drive in Glenview Sept. 19. He had parked his truck and on starting it up is alleged to have run over the child injuring her seriously.

Many new wrinkles in Mayfair rug cleaning

If you are among the millions who have been hiding the bare spots in the parlor rug during the war years, you should know what the carpetmakers have on the looms before you rush out to buy that new rug.

There are some new wrinkles in this centuries-old trade. And that is literally true—some of the new weaves have a crinkly effect, others have a sculptured texture. These new types of floor coverings add the third dimension to pattern and color under foot.

Weaving methods produce the relief effect, and such carpets are called "textured," to distinguish them from those with level pile and colored figures.

What makes quality in a carpet? The best way to know quality is to understand how carpets are made. The first thing to look for is closeness of weave; that is, the number of tufts of wool to the square inch. Looking at the back of the rug helps. Here you can count the number of rows to the inch in each direction, the weft and warp threads. The warp runs lengthwise and the weft crosswise. Multiply the two figures and you have the actual number of tufts to the square inch in the surface. If this count is around eight or nine in each direction it is a high-grade rug.

Next in importance is the height of the pile. If it is long and still stands up firmly under pressure, it is in the luxurious class. But even if it is short—say 3-16 inch high—it is a good rug if the pile is thick and stands firmly. It should have the springy feel of a golf green. The length of pile in American machine-made rugs varies from .145 inch to .500 inch.

Bending back the face of the rug is another good way to check closeness of the weave. In a high-grade carpet with tight pile you will hardly be able to see the backing at all. In a loosely woven piece the backing is visible.

Do You Need Supplemental Vitamins?

by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

Taking too many Vitamins harms not your system but your pocketbook. For the wisdom of Nature is great, and the body assimilates only what it needs, discarding the rest.

So let your physician decide your Vitamin requirements, and if you need more than your diet supplies he will advise the right amount, saving your unnecessary expense.

When he advises supplemental Vitamins, buy the product of a reputable pharmaceutical manufacturer.

BUT MY BATH IS GAS HEATED, TOO!"

"Yes, even in our cozy little home we have all the piping-hot water we need. Housework takes less time, thanks to our automatic gas water heater. Abundant hot water speeds up cleaning, washing clothes and doing dishes. We love the luxury of automatic hot water . . . and it doesn't strain our budget.

"Our Gas refrigerator saves us money by its thrifty, long-life operation. It's perfectly quiet, free from mechanical troubles caused by moving parts.

"My automatic Gas range gives me controlled heat. Baking, roasting, and broiling are smokeless, sure and fast.

"Gas heat brings us luxurious warmth and comfort all winter long. It's so carefree we have extra leisure. And, it's so clean the whole house stays fresh looking, longer.

"In summer, our Gas operated air-conditioner keeps our home pleasantly cool. We count on Gas for year 'round carefree comfort."

PTA told speech raises humans above animals

The Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday evening to hear Dr. Clarence Simon of the School of Speech of Northwestern University, talk on "Better Communication Through Better Speech." Dr. Simon stressed the relation of speech to the development of civilization, pointing out that had it not been for the development of speech, the human race would have been on the level of animals and that human civilization has grown on the basis of communication. Dr. Simon also told of the work being done in corrective speech, stating that Illinois has one of the finest programs in the United States for betterment of speech through state support. There are now fifteen states, following our lead, which are taking part in public supported speech programs.

Cubs of Pack 232 presented the colors and second grade mothers served as hostesses. The musical portion of the program was presented by Mrs. Robert J. Malcolm, with Mrs. Richard Lull at the piano. Mrs. Malcolm sang a group of three numbers and graciously added an encore.

The manual training classes had an excellent exhibit of their work for the year, under the shop teacher, Amos Husa.

A good attendance, an outstanding program, with the extra special music, refreshments, and an hour of visiting with teachers and other parents, made this meeting one of the best of the year.

The final meeting of the year will be held May 21, at which time a panel composed of members of the teaching staff, with R. E. Clabaugh, Supt., as chairman, will discuss "Arlington Heights Public Schools Look Ahead." You will be interested in the plans for the coming year, dealing with such topics as courses of study plans, teaching of spelling, report card changes, articulation with the high school, and teachers' salary schedule.

You are always welcome at P. T. A.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"Willie," I heard a mother counsel her son the other day. "Don't ever tell such a story again! You must always tell the truth."

"But Mother, what is truth?" Willie asked seriously.

No one has ever been able to answer Willie's question. For no one ever tells the exact truth, even including ministers of the Gospel. For absolute truth demands accuracy and thought—something of which human beings simply are not capable.

People will lie to protect their "honor," even though they may have secretly led dishonorable lives. They lie for financial reasons, or simply to satisfy their ego. And some people lie just out of plain cussedness.

Our speech is full of inaccuracies. We say that we slept "like the dead," yet since none of us have been dead, we can not know how the dead sleep. And since we can be awakened from our sleep, no matter how sound it may be, and because we breathe, are warm, and are only partially immobile and temporarily unconscious in our sleep, we definitely do not "sleep like the dead."

"Light as a feather," "Sunk like a stone," "Quick as a flash," "With the speed of light," "Slow as molasses," are only a few of the inaccuracies we use to describe people and things. Warped and inaccurate pictures are thus transmitted from one mind to another, and with each repetition, the result becomes farther and farther from the truth.

There is also innate within us all, a desire to impress our listeners with the importance of our news, so that often repeated stories become more and more dramatic, and less and less truthful each time they are repeated.

It is hard to retain friends and be truthful. We are compelled to laugh at stale jokes we have often heard, and false laughter is an untruth. We flatter one another to pretend a friendship we do not always feel. We brag on one another's appearance, habits, accomplishments, when we don't really think they are so much, and say so, too, in the privacy of our homes.

Webster says that truth is "harmony between thought and fact." Measure your statements against that definition, friends, and add your score at the end of each day.

But even though perfect truth is impossible with us, we should never be deterred from always striving for greater accuracy in thought and speech.

Students mass meet for re-hiring of athletic coach

More than 60 Barrington high school students made an unscheduled appearance at the school board's session last week after hearing rumors of the resignation of football coach Ralph Zech. Alleged differences in opinion between Zech and basketball coach Graham were brought forth as reasons for the possible resignation. Students spoke of their confidence in Zech and proposed keeping or firing both coaches.

The board stated there was no basis for the rumors.

Evangelism meetings open at arena Sunday

Bob Jones Sr. whose terrific evangelistic zest carries him 40,000 miles a year on preaching missions, will fire the opening volley against sin and the devil at 3 p. m., Sunday afternoon, April 28, to open Chicago's five-week evangelistic campaign. An old-time evangelist in technique, Bob Jones doesn't need a microphone and waves his arms while he exhorts sinners, recalling to Chicagoans the great Moody, Chapman and Billy Sunday campaigns of a generation ago.

The meetings in the Chicago Arena, at E. Erie and McClurg streets, will be held Sunday afternoons at 3 p. m., Sunday nights at 7:45 p. m., and will continue each week-day night at 7:45 p. m., with Chicagoland Youth for Christ in charge of the Saturday night meetings. They will constitute Chicagoland's first city-wide evangelistic campaign since Billy Sunday's lakefront tent drew ten and fifteen thousands nightly in 1918.

Bob Jones will be the speaker for two weeks, through Sunday afternoon, May 12. The subsequent meetings will be led by Dr. Paul W. Rood, from May 12 to 19, and by Dr. John R. Rice, from May 19 through June 2.

Palatine dance

Grand dance and reception at Batterman hall, Palatine, Easter Monday will be quite a society event. Mr. Abelman has spent a thousand dollars on redecorating the hall and ante rooms, and has the hall specially decorated for this opening.

Of especial beauty is the curtain, the work of A. S. Olms of Palatine, who has no mean ability in painting. Sanitary drinking fountains have been added and other toilet accessories have been placed in the ladies dressing room.

Women to wear trusers

"Don't be ashamed of your arms and legs. Get acquainted with them. You are far more immodest in evening clothes than in breeches." That argument turned the tide and the American Women's League for Self-Defense decided in favor of adopting the garb of the male soldiers.

Military efficiency for a time seemed likely to be brushed aside by sentiment as the assembled women pondered the thoughts of "contemplative husbands and sweethearts" as they gazed at the skirtless ladies.

"Dresses belong to the women of the last generation, and have been the curse and burden of women," stated the argument.

NATIONAL BABY WEEK

"Say, Mom—and Dad too—we sure love all the fuss you're making over us during National Baby Week. But, please, could we get in a gurgle or two, straight from the cradle? About that daily bath, for instance . . ."

"Now, I like to get all prettied up and smell sweet and clean, same as you do. My daily bathtime can be fun, too, if you'll just remember a few simple things that I have trouble getting across: "I like my bath in a nice warm room, with the water just the right temperature. "When it comes to soap, I like that mild white floating kind most doctors recommend. It cleans my chubby wrinkles and creases and it's so soothing and relaxing. (You really ought to use it for my clothes, sheets, blankets and diapers, too, so my skin won't get irritated.) "Just use plain water on my face, please, 'cause I can't seem to keep soap out of my eyes and nose and mouth. "Please hold me firmly, and don't let my head get under water. You know how I holler when that happens; scares me about my bath for days to come. "Dry me with a soft absorbent towel; pat, if you don't mind. Dry all my little folds and creases so they won't chafe. Top me off with an antiseptic baby powder. "That's about the ticket, Mom, for a beautiful, healthy me. Do these things and then watch me coo myself off to a sound, restful sleep." (For copy of booklet "Bathing Your Baby the Right Way," send a postal card to BABY CARE, Box 837, Cincinnati 1, Ohio.)

It is estimated that 81 per cent of the people in the world have a real income of less than $10 per breadwinner per week.

Postponement of bonus to vets asked

The payment of a government bonus to veterans should not be made at this time, but should be postponed until we have attained greater production, Harry Guthmann, professor of finance at Northwestern University, said today.

"Whatever one's views on the soldiers' bonus, it would appear the height of unwisdom to pay it at a time when the supply of spendable cash far exceeds the amount of available goods," he said. "Such a large disbursement should be made when business conditions are bad and the cash would mean maximum benefit to the soldiers and the community."

He said that prices will continue to rise gradually, despite controls, because of large increases of currency and bank deposits that grew out of failure to finance the war by taxation and savings. "The very fact that artificial price controls were more successful in this war than the last one means that postwar prices have that much higher to rise than before," he stated.

"The temptation to cut taxes in an election year is great," he said. "But the time to balance the budget and reduce debt is when business is active and inflation threatens."

"The FHA plan, produced to stimulate building in the depression of the 1930's by making 30 and 90 per cent loans on easy terms, creates a danger of wholesale loss of homes if the loans are made at high prices during inflation. Such easy lending does not increase the supply of homes during a period like the present but increases the number of bidders for a limited supply and tends to push prices of homes even higher.

"Normal lending standards and precautions should be re-introduced if we wish to avoid a bigger real estate smash than we had during the early 1930's. The use of credit in all fields where it will add fuel to inflation should be discouraged."

Wash Coffee Pot

Nothing will so quickly cause coffee to taste bitter as a pot that is not kept absolutely clean. Fill the pot with soap and water immediately after use and let stand till dishwashing time. Daily washing should be supplemented with occasional boiling with hot water and suds.

AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:
Last week, for two days, we had the good fortune to have as our guest, a landscape gardener. He has been a client of Rob's for several years, and from time to time, their conversation drifted away from the law business to the gardening business — the latter more soul-satisfying, I'm sure.

Recently, this gentleman decided to sell some real estate property that he had beautifully planted and tended over a period of years. Rather than leave his rock garden to be torn apart by the new owners in order to put up a garage, he elected to GIVE it all to us.

Now, miniature gardening has always appealed to me, and once I tried to make such a garden, albeit it was on a very small and insignificant scale. I wasn't too successful in the results I obtained, and I think I know why, now. It takes study. For instance, you just don't put cutting plants in a rock garden. You do plant different species of yews and pfiters for background, and ground covers — vine-like growth — for the spaces between the rocks, and tiny blooming plants that never grow high, for color.

Well, my dear, we were invited by Mr. Hahn to bring our two-wheel trailer and help ourselves to the plants he had dug for us. Rob and Jack went to his place, and returned with a load of wonderful things — and Mr. Hahn, himself. (I honestly think he didn't trust our judgment in planting, and wanted to see for himself that it was done right. How wise of him.)

I was completely taken aback when I looked on the assortment they removed from the trailer. I couldn't tell you the proper names of all the things, for I didn't know them then, and can't remember them now after being told. I only know I was so fascinated and awed with what Mr. Hahn told us about the proper way of transplanting; of miniature gardening; and just gardening, that after the week end was over, I began to look around for reading material on the subject.

It seemed like fate that Jack should bring a book home from the library, called "Made in China," by Cornelia Spencer. It has an explanatory foreword by Lin Yutang. In this book there is a chapter devoted to gardens — "places in which to think" — as the early Chinese thought of them.

Mr. Hahn had told me that the plants we were going to use were Chinese, and later, Japanese, in origin, and I was curious to read of this. Perhaps, you might like me to mention a few of the "discoveries" I found in this delightful and (according to Lin Yutang, who should know) authentic book of Cornelia Spencers.

"To the Chinese, the West is indebted not only for the beginnings of gardens, but also for many of the favorite flowers which she thinks of as her own. Although the making of gardens did not reach its perfection in China until a thousand years after Confucius, in the Sung dynasty, it had its beginning in the days of the great philosophers. Writings of twenty-five hundred years ago show that when Confucius and Lao-Tze, lived, men grew tired of wars and cities and longed for the quiet beauty of hills.

The Chinese love symbolism and for this reason they have a particular liking for water, washed rocks. Landscape, artificially constructed, was the theme of the Chinese garden. In the given space, natural beauties were brought together in what was thought to be proper relation to each other.

In the sixth century, the Emperor Yang Ti began building a park more than sixty miles in circumference, comprising the "Five Lakes and Four Seas." To this court came the first official embassy from Japan. Up to this time, Japan had been a primitive country, little concerned with artificial gardens. Soon after the return of this Japanese embassy the ancient chronicles mention the first landscape garden built in Japan.

While gardening in China degenerated as it grew more and more stylized, Japan tended to preserve what she had learned. Today the visitor to the Orient might be disappointed by what he found of existing Chinese gardens, but he would be enchanted with the gardening art of Japan.

The oldest known garden remnant in either Japan or China, perhaps in the world, is one near Kyoto, Japan. It is believed to date back to the Tang period of Chinese history, about 665 A. D. The time of Japan's first great interest in Chinese garden art. Some rocks are half buried in the earth. One group of three still shows definite artistic arrangement — the occult balance based on the triangle whose lines, when used in flower arrangement, are called Heaven, Earth, and Man. The groupings of these stones, done at a time when Japan herself had undertaken very little original work, suggest that the skill displayed may have come directly from China.

The present gardens around West Lake in Hangchow province are not old. Nothing of the Sung Dynasty gardens is left. Yet Chinese garden art is not dead. There remains in the Chinese, of high or low birth, a love of beautiful stone, of flowing water, of berried-shrubs, of up-thrusting branches of bamboo, of flowers which are more than flowers, for they portend something. Sweet wild plum is winter, peony is spring, lotus is summer and chrysanthemum is autumn.

Our friend, Mr. Hahn, has begun a rock garden with the plants from his own garden, in front of our south picture window. Now it is up to us to nurture it and help it grow — and love it, as he did. I am so delighted with the prospects I doubt if I will be able to tear myself very far away from it this summer. With love, Mary.

AMVETS group growing fast

Announcement was made by the Illinois Department of AMVETS, American Veterans of World War II, the third largest of all veterans groups of both wars, that six new Illinois Posts were added in the past week, including Wheeling. Their addition to the Illinois Department brings the State total to 66 Posts and boosts the nationwide figure to over 550 Posts.

A membership drive was commenced in Illinois on April 1st as a prelude to the second Illinois AMVET Convention to be held from May 2 to 5 in the Illinois Room of the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago.

THE FRUIT CROP

With the fruit trees bursting into cascades of vari-colored beauty and the weatherman turning out about the grandest Easter weather of all time, there is a lot of discussion going on among experts and others as to what the prospects are for a fruit crop this year. Some trees were pretty well in bloom when those freezing nights came a couple of weeks ago when ice froze half an inch thick and there were heavy frosts all over everything.

Some folks think that those freezes hurt the fruit crop while others maintain that if the buds were still in the shell they would come through all right. Well time will tell and it's still April and pretty early for all those fruit trees to be in full bloom. There is still plenty of chance for a killing frost and in the back of our mind is still the spectre of those blooming cactus plants.

The cactus haven't produced any blizzards but there was some real hard freezes after they shot out all those blooms so maybe they'll be satisfied with that. At any rate we hope so.

Everyone would like to see a good fruit crop this year after last year's failure because of that "June in March" spring.

ROTO TILLER

The gardeners in our neighborhood have been standing around in open mouthed wonder at the looks of their gardens after Vernon Bergman had sailed over them aboard a new fangled machine that left the gardens looking like a finely worked flower bed and the ground so fine that you could track a rabbit over it.

After it looked as if we were going to be "left at the post" on getting our garden plowed this year we heard of Vernon and his new fangled machine and got him over there. When we looked at the finished job we were thunderstruck. "How's that for a job?" asked Hank Pohlman who was looking over the old Wolf garden and ours which had just been finished. "What kind of a thing did that?" we wanted to know and Hank said it was a "Roto Tiller."

Well all we can say is that a Roto Tiller is some machine. It's almost unbelievable that a machine could chew up rough plowed land and leave it looking like a well raked and smoothed flower bed, but that thing does it. It is used in place of a disc and harrow on fresh plowed land and on fall plowed land and it does a dream of a job.

WE GET GOING

And after having that Roto Tiller on our garden we've really got started at last to make a garden. Some of the neighbors seemed to be getting worried for fear we weren't going to get at it this year but now with the help of that new fangled machine "we're off." And the ground is plenty cold yet and very dry, so there's plenty of time to have a garden if we'd get a shower or two and the ground warms up so the seeds will germinate rapidly. It wasn't only the neighbors that were worried about our getting going. The night before the garden was plowed we saw a rabbit setting out in the middle of that bare plot looking very much discouraged and downcast. He was probably thinking "Now ain't that guy every going to start this garden and set out some of those nice tender cabbage plants for me to chew up?" And seeing that fellow camped out there with that evil eye of his, roving around reminded us that that we've got to get busy and go on a hunt for some of that fancy "rabbit repellent" that saved our cabbages last year even if it did cost us ten times what the blame cabbage were worth.

DIRT FARMER

We met Bill Bauman on the street the other morning and he says, "Do you know, after looking at all those people lined up over there on Brockway street trying to get a piece of meat, I'm glad I'm just a common dirt farmer. Anyhow I've got plenty of chickens, ducks, eggs and lots of other things and don't have to stand in line to get a little something to eat." "Yes," we reminded him, "and how about that steer you've got planted away in the freezer?" "Oh, he's getting more tender and juicy all the time," replied Bill.

Yes, as Bill says, he may be just a plain dirt farmer but right now it's those boys who are sitting on top of the world as far as eating is concerned at least. All of which reminds us that lots of other people also make use of those freezers to have a backlot of something to eat against lean days at the markets. We were out to dinner one day and the roast, the asparagus and the berries from which the pie was made, all came out of the freezer. Yes those freezers are a part in a storm to lots of people these days.

PAID VACATION

Are there any people in these northwest towns who want to take a vacation of four or six weeks this summer and get paid for it? If there are, here's a fine chance. The Arlington Park race meeting will bring to this area a lot of horsemen and their families who will be looking for a place to live. The boys have been racing for better purses than ever before and most of them have real folding money.

They'd rent a home or an apartment for the duration of the Arlington Meeting and pay good prices for their quarters. So if anyone wants to move out for a vacation during the Arlington meeting and get enough rent for their home to pay for their vacation here's their chance. And there are a lot of fine people among the horsemen and a renter can have a wide selection of prospects to choose from.

505 workers keep scouting going for 1,900 in NW area

Scouting in the Northwest Suburban Council is now a $100,000 a year activity.

But wait a minute. That's only what it's worth by a conservative estimate of the time and effort involved. Scouting actually costs the eleven communities in the Council only $15,000 a year.

Considering the high caliber of the men who, with no thought of remuneration except the satisfaction they get from the work, put over the Scout Program in these 11 northwest suburban communities, would you say that their efforts are worth a dollar an hour?

To be sure, a bricklayer, a carpenter or a plumber would consider such a wage ridiculous. That is why the Scout committee, in endeavoring to estimate the actual monetary value of the Scout Program, considers a dollar an hour a conservative estimate for the work done by Scout leaders.

Did you know that in Arlington Heights, Lake Zurich, Barrington, Palatine, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Des Plaines, Wheeling, Park Ridge, Lincolnwood and Skokie — the 11 communities of the Northwest Suburban Council — there are 505 registered Scouters?

Of these 505 Scoutmasters, Cubmasters and other adult leaders who keep 1,900 Boy Scouts, Cubs and Senior Scouts interested in Scouting, each spends an average of three hours a week either holding Scout meetings or doing the organizational work necessary to keep the Scout movement going full steam ahead in northwest Chicagoland.

Now you can figure it out for yourself: 505 Scouters, each working three hours a week at, say, $1 an hour, gives a weekly "payroll" of $1,515. This sum multiplied by 52 gives us an annual figure of $78,780. Now add the $15,000 contributed annually by citizens of the 11 communities, and you arrive at a figure close enough to $100,000 so that such a round sum represents quite accurately the actual cost of Scouting in this area.

It might also be noted that of the $93,780 total, $55 men contribute more than $78,780 in time and effort, while the rest of us — in all 11 communities — dig down for $15,000.

Is that a bargain or isn't it? Of course, the worth of a movement such as Scouting can never be estimated in dollars and cents. Scouting, like any similar movement, is always worth about what its leaders and members put into it. However, it might be well to keep in mind the above figures.

The annual Scout fund campaign will be announced in the near future. You'll be glad to contribute again as you always have since you hardly have to be "sold" on a movement of such proven merit.

New bread

Thought I might use the columns of your newspaper to express my opinion of the future bread situation.

Instead of cutting out a lot of loaves of bread, why not reduce the size an additional twenty percent. The price could be dropped a couple of cents, too.

I know in our house at least one-fourth of every loaf is thrown away as being two days old, and stale, of course. About every other family I know does the same thing.

Cutting the size of the loaf should stop an awful lot of waste. And by cutting the price, those with large families who use plenty of bread could buy two loaves instead of one.

Objectors

I just want to thank you for having the article on "COs are guinea pigs" in this week's Herald.

It is especially noteworthy your publishing this — simply in view of the vast amount of misinformation that existed during the war — and still exists prejudicially in some quarters — concerning conscientious objectors.

Gold star kin warned of body-returning racket

Next of kin of the war dead were cautioned today to be on their guard against racketeers posing as having contracts to return bodies to this country.

W. M. Krieger, executive secretary of the National Selected Morticians, said such racketeers have appeared in various parts of the country, particularly in the West.

One such organization, located in Idaho, has written to next of kin, representing itself as having a contract with the Army Quartermaster General "to return the bodies and ashes of veterans who lost their lives overseas, either in action or in concentration camps."

Krieger said that the Memorial Division of the Office of the Quartermaster General denied in a letter to a Wyoming mortician that it has entered into any contract to repatriate bodies of the war dead.

"This is a most despicable racket," Krieger said. "The racketeers seek to prey upon the tender sensibilities and the grief of those who lost loved ones overseas. The public should be on guard."

Krieger declared that legislation for the body repatriation program still is pending in Congress.

the lawns. "We do not believe the claims they make, but we are using a dollar bottle on a trial patch. If it does not work, Gaare pays the bill, if it works we give a commercial in these columns."

Since using that rabbit repellent we are skeptical about such things while Otto Gaare is ready to bet a new tire that Weed-No-More will kill most big leafy weeds that mar the lawn's beauty. It is also death on dandelions, says Otto.

When the program is approved, he said, it will be carried out by the Memorial Division itself.

"Persons approached by these racketeers who are not morticians, should notify their local morticians or federal authorities immediately," Krieger said. "The mortuary profession will be among the first to know the repatriation plans and will be in position to advise and counsel next of kin as part of its service. In any event, no one should pay anyone any sum for the repatriation of a loved one's body."

It Happened Here

He was a husky iceman and his wagon stopped in front of an apartment building while he let out a stentorian bellow. "Ice!" Nothing happened and he tried again, this time his bellow fairly shaking the pavement, and still nothing happened. The mild passer-by fully expected to be blown up with an icy blast when he saw him stand and cup his hands about his mouth but the succeeding roar was only a boyish and rather plaintive, "Hey, Maw!" Of course icemen must have maws, but who would have tho't it? We only hope that "Maw" got her ice. There has been much written about "basic English," whatever that may be, and it has tempted us to collect a few specimens of "English as she is spoken." "Excuse me, I made the wrong door." (A gentleman apologizing for ringing our doorbell.) "Can you make with the window?" (meaning, can you manage?) "There's a kettle of soup to hot up." "I haven't phoned her for so long, she'll wonder what has disappeared me." "We got too much reversed." (Speaking of our changeable spring weather.) S'Amuser.

Lilac time opens this weekend in Lombard

Opening this weekend and continuing for ten days or more is expected to be the most prolific and colorful floral display ever seen in the 20 year history of an annual spectacle that has become known all over the United States under its title, Lilac Time in Lombard.

An early spring has advanced the lilac season two weeks ahead of the normal period. Following two unfavorable seasons, however, commissioners of the Lombard park report they have never observed a more profuse showing of buds nor a more uniform condition of bloom among the upwards of 400 varieties of lilacs, of every known color and species.

Some 50,000 tulips also line the paths and appear in large beds here and there. New to the exhibit this year will be an arrangement of 2,000 pansy plants of assorted colors. Along with this massed fragrance and beauty that fills every corner of the six acre community park are plots of other spring flowers and certain rare trees and shrubs.

Adequate lighting at night has added novelty to the daytime attraction of the place. It is open from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. Located in the heart of the western suburb, the exhibit is made convenient by nearby parking facilities and its distance of just three blocks from the electric line station.

A small admission fee has helped to control what on some former years had become an overwhelming weekend visitation.

Your weekly treat recipe

Doughnuts are a pleasant addition to your breakfast, lunch or dinner. At snack-time or with your afternoon tea, they are a real treat. There are many recipes for making them, but this week I am giving you the one I like best.

Doughnuts

½ cup sugar, 2 tbsps. butter, 2 eggs, ¼ cup soured cream, 2 cups all purpose flour, 1 tspn baking powder, ½ tspn salt, ½ tspn nutmeg, vanilla, ½ tspn soda dissolved in 1 tbspn water.

Method: Cream the butter and sugar—add eggs—add soda mixture to the soured cream. Sift the dry ingredients and add alternately with the soured cream mixture to the first mixture. Chill. READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

In the old days when someone began to act queer, he was put into a snake pit. Sometimes the snake bit and the patient died, but if not he was pronounced cured. Mary Jane Ward's novel, "The Snake Pit," also has to do with people who act "queer." But the time is today, and the setting is a modern mental institution. "The Snake Pit" is a current Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

The heroine is Virginia Cunningham, a novelist. One morning in February she complains to her husband that there is "something wrong with her head." When next she begins consciously to look around her, it is August. She finds herself sitting in a park dressed in a Hoover apron. What was she thinking of, she reflects, to dash out on the streets in such a dress? But what worries her most is that she has no pocketbook. What woman ever steps outdoors in the city without a pocketbook?

Her reasoning processes are still slow and wandering. When the large and bossy nurse comes to round up her and other strange, apron-clad females for the dinner hour, a solution comes to her. She is in prison, gathering material for a novel! The truth comes when she goes to the head nurse about her glasses. "I can't see without them. If I don't get them I'll go crazy," she says. The way the nurse looks at her, she realizes she has used a word not spoken in this place. And then she understands.

The doctor thinks she is better. So does her husband. Only she knows the uncertainty of her own thinking. Doors and rooms never seem to be in the same place. She can't perform correctly the simplest of her "occupational therapy" tasks. After she fails to pass the doctor's examination, her husband, on his fortnightly visit, treats her gently, as though she had had an unsuccessful operation. The old rule of "one step forward, two backward" seems true in her case. She becomes companion to the most wretched of the hospital's inmates. How and why she found she was going to get well is the climax of this unusual and engrossing novel.

Evergreens are for protection and not shade

Coniferous or needled evergreens, such as pine, spruce, fir, cedar and arborvitae of the tall-growing kinds should not be considered as shade trees. They are primarily useful for protection from winter winds, as individual specimens or in interesting groups. They should not be planted in locations that are more desirable for deciduous trees used for shade, enframement or background for the farm dwellings.

Evergreens will be most useful and interesting as a winter protective tree or as a specimen tree if planted where the branches will be permitted to spread and touch the ground during their growing life. Pruning is not recommended to keep the trees from attaining natural size. However, limited pruning to encourage a desirable form or shape of the tree may be practiced.

The trees should be located 35 feet or more from the farmhouse in the direction of prevailing winter winds. Such a location provides for more effective wind-break and also enhances the beauty of the landscape. Trees used as specimens or in interesting groups where wind protection is not necessarily desirable may be located several feet from the boundary plantings on the turf side.

Spruces, pines and firs when used in connection with a dwelling will be useful for a longer time if set out 12 feet or more from the dwelling. Such trees, if planted directly in front of a building as a part of the foundation planting, will almost always be undesirable long before they reach maturity. At best they will demand repeated annual attention to restrain their size, and in so doing some natural beauty will be sacrificed.

The hardy, tall-growing conifers should be satisfactory for a quarter century or longer if these suggestions are followed.

IAA insurance companies show substantial gains

Substantial increases in business for the six months ending March 31 were reported today by the Illinois Agricultural Association's three insurance companies—Country Life, Country Fire and Country Casualty.

Paid business by Country Life amounted to $17,625,000 for the first half of the fiscal year compared to $12,891,000 a year ago. The increase by Country Life is more than 35 per cent over the same period a year ago.

Fire, wind, and extended coverage insurance written by Country Fire amounted to $67,612,000 for the six months compared to $55,842,000 written last year.

Policies issued by Country Casualty numbered 17,254 for the six-month period compared to 8,623 for the same six months a year ago. The 17,254 policies included 15,548 automobile and 1,706 employers liability compared to 7,397 automobile and 1,226 employer liability.

Country Fire and Country Casualty limit their business to Illinois Farm Bureau members only. Country Life's policies are available generally but are written chiefly on Illinois farmers. Total Country Life paid business amounts to more than $257,000,000.

The IAA insurance companies are owned and controlled by Illinois Farm Bureau members.

Give hints for pruning fruit tree brambles

Some home fruit plantings have brambles growing so close together that it's like trying to produce corn planted 10 stalks in a hill. In order to produce large berries, brambles must be grown in rows or hills and must be pruned properly.

Pruning brambles growing in rows includes removal of the dead canes which bore fruit last year. Narrowing the rows to about two feet is another good practice. Large canes may be left for fruiting and the weak ones taken out. The laterals, or side branches, are best headed back to about a foot in length, and the unbranched canes cut back to about four feet. These same suggestions apply to black and purple raspberries which grow in hills, says Victor W. Kelley, fruit extension specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

If you'd like to have more information, University of Illinois Circular 524 will help. You can get it by sending a card to the University and ask for Circular 524, "Growing Fruits for Home Use."

Use lawn weed killers cautiously

Have you any questions about the new weed-killing chemicals? Lloyd Sherwood of the agronomy department at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture says lots of people are asking about the same chemical but calling it different names. The new weed-killer is 2, 4-D—but it's used in weed killers put out by a number of companies, and each one has its own trade name. But the chemical that actually does the killing is the same in each of them.

So, if you want to try 2, 4-D, you can ask for Weedone (WEEDONE), Chipmunk 2, 4-D Weed-killer, Carbowax, DeeWeed, Weedicide, Weedanol, En-Dow, Weed, or others. They'll kill dandelions, buckhorn, plantain and a number of other lawn weeds without bothering the grass too much as long as the grass is two inches or more tall. But, Sherwood warns, 2, 4-D also kills clovers and some kinds of desirable plants. So if you want to keep clover in your lawn, don't use 2, 4-D. And if you do use 2, 4-D on your lawn, clean the sprayer out thoroughly before spraying vegetables or flowers—the residue from the 2, 4-D could easily kill some of them.

Redwings in first game at Algonquin

Next Sunday afternoon the Redwings will play at Algonquin to warm up for the home season opener on May 5. When the Arlington Redwings open in recreation park, Dundee will furnish the opposition.

From all indications the local club will be much stronger than last year. New players in the outfield and infield and also in the catching department will improve the club's hitting power and defensive strength.

A revival of baseball enthusiasm in surrounding towns makes it possible to bring in new visiting clubs. During the first month Dundee, Aurora, Elgin and Woodstock will play here. Following them will come the Mid-West League teams out of Chicago. The Redwing schedule is being drawn up to bring in the best opposition available.

Local fans are due for a very interesting season of baseball.

Golf lesson: the downswing

The beginning of the downswing is confusing to many players, not only to beginners, but to some who have played for years, according to Ben Riley, professional at Old Orchard Golf Course.

There should be nothing confusing about it. It is simply a downward movement of both arms with the left arm leading until the hands are about waist high at the same time the left heel goes back to the ground, so that the left side will be firm when the club head swings into the ball.

As both arms come down the right elbow is kept fairly close to the body so that the club head will descend in practically the same arc as was used in the upswing, then when both hands reach a position almost waist high, the wrists uncock themselves and add to the speed of the club head as it hits into the ball.

Their loyal support in the past is greatly appreciated by the Redwing club and every effort is being made to build the best club ever to represent Arlington Hts.

BY GERALD A. McELROY

From all appearances the 1946 Palatine Relays may be a record breaking meet. Since 1941 the number of new records on the books has been relatively few and far between. The field records are so good that it would take a near state champ to crack any of them. The best bet for new marks is in the relays and the condition of the track and the weather of the day.

of the meet will be a determining factor. From looking over the entry marks and the records of some of the teams in meets this year it appears to us that three class "A" relay marks are likely to be wiped out.

Naperville can better two mile record

That the two mile relay record will be broken is a near certainty if conditions are anywhere near right. Naperville's quartet of Morrison, Shiffer, Case and Vermaat, Schultz or Cowan ran the two mile in 8:37 at the Oak Park Relays.

The Palatine record is 8:46.4 or nine seconds slower. Morrison has run the mile in 4:32 and Shiffer in 4:40 so there is a chance that one of them might break the mile record of 4:39.3 set by Smith of Geneva in 1941. The Palatine track is not in as good condition as usual due to the exceptionally dry spring so the record in the mile will probably stand.

Niles has best sprint relay teams

Niles Township, dark horse of the meet may smash two spring relay records. Coach Hussey's quartet of Horton, Suydam, Farr and Pask ran the 880 yard relay in 1:36.5 in their opening meet of the season. The Palatine mark is 1:35.8 so it will likely go. In the frosh-soph 440 yard relay the Niles team of Heiniger, Bair, Siegel and Permer ran a :47.5 in the same meet as compared with the Palatine Relay's record of :47.7. Running in lanes all the way from a staggered start Niles should easily establish a new mark. Niles might take the "A" class from favored Naperville for the Trojan sprinters are also hurdlers and the school has several boys who are good distance runners. Niles' weakness in the field events will not count for much in this meet where relay points are double those for individual events.

Field event records made by state champs

Palatine Relays field event records are in most cases close to state championship caliber. The pole vault mark is 12 feet 7 inches made by Merwin of Woodstock in 1935 when he won first in the state. The high jump mark made by Zacco of Geneva in 1938 at 6 feet 2 inches is one of the best meet marks. Sharpe of Grant, a state champ, holds the shot mark of 50 feet 7 1/4 inches made in 1936. In the discus another state champ, Behan of Crystal Lake, tossed the platter 150 feet 10 inches in 1941. This year McClenaghan of Naperville is a certain pole vault winner with a previous 12 foot mark and Heun, his team mate with 11 feet should take second. Kamps of Arlington Heights who has high jumped 5 feet 9 inches is the favorite in his event. Harold Legel of Crystal Lake, twice state finalist, (Cont'd. on next page)

Cards drop first game to Trojan nine, 4-0

The Arlington Cardinals went down to defeat before a fine defensive Niles ball club, 4-0, Tuesday afternoon in a game played on the Niles diamond. The Cards were simply outplayed.

Chuck Bracke was not as effective as usual, due partially to wildness.

Jaehne, Niles pitcher, received fine fielding support from his teammates. Outstanding was Larson on the initial sack and Anderson in left field. The Trojans scored their first run of the ball game in the third. Olson was safe at first on the shortstop's error. Larson then drove a triple into left field, scoring Olson.

In the fourth, the Trojans picked up a duster of 3 runs on 3 hits and a wild pitch. The big blow in this inning was a three-base hit by the right fielder, Freimuth and a double by the pitcher that should have been caught.

In the sixth, Robinson, freshman pitcher, came in and re-

22 schools to compete at Palatine

Twenty-two schools will compete in the 14th Annual Palatine Relays next Saturday, April 27. Naperville will be back to defend their championship in class "A" in a field of nine entries while Geneva is defending class "B" champ but will have 12 schools competing for the 1946 title.

The meet held at Ost Field in Palatine Saturday will start at 10:00 a. m. with the five field events, shot, discus, pole vault, broad jump, and high jump, being completed in the morning. The relay session opens at 1:00 p. m. with the following running events: two mile relay, mile medley relay, frosh-soph 440 yard relay, 880 yard relay, 320 yard high hurdle shuttle relay, 432 yard low hurdle shuttle relay, 100 yard dash, and mile run. Only the 100 and mile are open events. In all relays there are separate races, ribbons, and points for five places in each class. Schools under 365

Card runners crush Palatine, Bensenville

George Busse leads males to 103 points

Arlington Heights track squad crushed Palatine and Bensenville in a triangular meet last Wednesday afternoon. Arlington scored 103 points as they took all four places in the mile run, 100 yard dash and the broad jump and won the first three places in the high jump and low hurdles. Palatine won only one first and scored 24 points while Bensenville got one first in their 14 points.

George Busse scored 23 1/4 points for top honors including four first places. Busse won both hurdles, the discus and the 100 yard dash. His :10.4 in the 100 and :24.3 in the low hurdles around a sharp curve were excep-

First polo match Sunday

Arlington Farms will invade the North Shore Polo Club field at Golf Road (route 58), one mile west of Skokie Road (Route 41) Sunday afternoon to battle it out in the first postwar polo game to be played in this area.

The game, starting at 2:30 o'clock, will pit two all-star line-ups against each other. Sparked by Dan Peacock, internationally known player, Arlington Farms, organized by Len Bernard, will be rounded out by Billy Mayer, who showed his talents while still a sophomore at Northwestern University four years ago, and Virgil Christian, former eastern ace. Bill Barney, former Princeton University polo captain, will hold the No. 1 leadoff position for North Shore. Two other favorites with the fans will ride for the home team. These mallet wielders are Jerry Fordon and W. J. (Smitty) Schmidt.

Arlington Farms will present a 12 goal team, as against a seven goal strength for North Shore, rating a five goal head start for the home trio.

To name prep player for nat'l all-star game

by TOMMY KOUZMANOFF
The championship game of the Hearst National Diamond Penant Series will be played at the Polo Grounds in New York as a night game on August 14.
This game, which promises to be the most spectacular and colorful prep baseball game in history, will bring together the United States All-Stars and the New York City All-Stars.
The Chicago Herald-American will name its player for the All-United States aggregation at an all-star game at Wrigley Field on July 1. This contest will pair the City League All-Stars (the Chicago Public school league) and an all-star team from the combined Suburban, Private, Catholic, South Suburban, Northeast and Northwest conferences.
The game here will be played as a part of what will be Chicago's big double-header of the year with the Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates clashing in a regularly scheduled National League contest in the other half of the bill.
There'll be no rise in ticket prices for this great attraction. Regular Cub prices will prevail—box seats, $1.80; grandstand, $1.25, bleachers, 65 cents.

Leyden shuts out Warren, 3-0

Behind Burton's three hit pitching Leyden shut out Warren 3-0 at Gurnee last Thursday. All runs were scored in the second inning when Leyden bunched three of their four hits with two Warren errors for their tally. Warren made six errors behind Bratzke, who was tagged for only four safe blows.

(Cont'd. from preceding page)
alist in the discus, is the odds on favorite and might threaten the record if he has one of his best days. Dobrowski of Naperville and Greene of Crystal Lake are 47 foot shot putters.
Arlington could win championship
Do not count Coach W. J. Creamer's team out of the running. Arlington has a very well balanced squad especially in the relays. With fast men like Busse, Bodor and Rypkema in the short relays the Cards should push Niles' potential record breakers. Arlington's best bet for first places in the relays will be in the hurdle shuttle events and though Arlington might not get any first places they could win the meet for they will score well in most all the running events. Leyden is another strong contender. Their best boys are very good but the question is how deep the good material runs in their squad, the deciding factor when it comes to a relay meet.

Just being smart to string with Naperville

But after all it is just good judgment to string along with Naperville. If they have hurdlers and sprinters they should be a cinch for they can certainly pile up points in the field events. Steek is a .104 sprinter and a 20 foot broad jumper and they will get nine points in the pole vault and first or second in the shot. Coach Harshbarger's Indians have won the meet seven times in eight attempts. With a meet just four miles away at Wheaton the Naperville boys prefer to come to Palatine because of the individual awards in all events. At Wheaton first place winning teams in each relay get trophies which go to the school. Naperville is the smallest school entered in class "A" but is a great track school and has one of the best track coaches in the state in John Harshbarger. His brother Don is head track coach at Oak Park. In college at Iowa Teachers back in the twenties they were known as "Little Poison" and "Big Poison." Your writer happened to be interested in athletics in a neighboring college at about the same time and saw plenty of their athletic prowess.

Niles out in front in N. E. baseball

Holding Arlington to one hit Niles won their fourth straight league baseball game Tuesday 4-0. It was the same score as Niles whipped Leyden. Excellent pitching and strong fielding feature Niles playing. They do not show unusual power at bat but they do not need to thus far. It looks very much like a Niles championship with half the league season completed.

Will to work and train prime requisite of track runner

Palatine rules are yardstick of qualifications

For the interest of track fans who may wonder just what qualifications a high school athlete for a varsity letter in track and field Paddock Publications are publishing this week the qualifications necessary at Palatine high school. Such qualifications apply only to the local school, but like qualifications usually apply at other institutions.

Varsity letter

(Any one of the following will qualify a person for a letter in case the individual has a satisfactory record for attendance at practice and meets, training, willingness to work, and general attitude.)

1. Average 2 points for the season in dual and triangular meets. (If there are six meets this means a total of 12 points. Points won in the Palatine Relays, N. W. Conference meet, and state District, may be counted in the total without counting these events in the number of meets. Individuals who miss any meets for reasons other than illness or injury shall have those meets counted in their total for the season and have a deduction in their point total of two points for each meet. More than two meets missed under such circumstances shall mean forfeit of chance for letter.)

2. Run on a relay team which finishes first, second or third in the Palatine Relays or win a place in an individual event. (Frosh-Soph Relay not to qualify a person unless the team wins first in this event.)

3. Finish first, second, or third in an individual event in the N. W. conference meet or run on a first place relay team. (Frosh-Soph relay not counted.)

4. Win a place in the State District Meet at Evanston.

5. Win a first, second or third in an individual event in the Northwest-Northeast Frosh-Soph meet.

6. Win a first, second or third in North Shore Frosh-Soph meet at Evanston.

Minor letter

1. Average one point a meet for the dual and triangular varsity meets under same conditions as mentioned above.

2. Average two points a meet in Frosh-Soph dual and triangular meets under same conditions as mentioned above.

lar meets under same conditions as mentioned for varsity letter.

3. Run on relay team finishing fourth or fifth in Palatine Relays or on Frosh-Soph relay team winning second, third, fourth or fifth.

4. Running on Freshman relay in conference meet winning first place or running on other relay team finishing second or third. Finishing fourth or fifth in an individual event in the conference meet.

5. Place in the Northeast Northwest Frosh-Soph meet.

6. Place in the North Shore Frosh-Soph meet at Evanston.

Local bowlers rate high in city tourney

Two of sixteen Arlington Hgts. bowlers competing in a tourney at Bowlway Recreation, 4911 Broadway, Chicago, notching high scores of above 700 for the four games are expected to remain in the money.

Virgil Rolf now ranks fourth in the meet with a 752 total, while Ed Duenn rolled 738 to place fifth. The tourney has a long way to go, though, but it is felt these two men will place in the money.

Pat Harmon's All State basketball team

First team—Ted Beack, Champaign; Benton Odum, Marion; Burdette Thurlby, Kirkland; Bill Erickson, E. Rockford; Jim Cottrell, Champaign.

Second team—Bill Gross, Danville; Bato Govedarica, Lane; Wall Osterkorn, Amundsen; Bob Hughes, West Frankfort; Bill Dabler, Dundee.

Third team—Colin Anderson, Centralia; Bill Quelch, Glenbard; Dave Allen, Waukegan; Jake Fendley, South Shore; John Ruzich, Johnston.

Among those winning honorable mention were Ed Ahrens, Dundee; Charles Grover, Dundee; Al Guisfredi, Morton; Jimmy Elsbury, Waukegan; Rod Fletcher, Champaign; Harold Legel, Crystal Lake; Jack Lockyer, New Trier; John McDermott, Champaign; Lou Proctor, E. Rockford; Tom Rowe, Oak Park; Don Sokolovsky, Proviso; Don Stroot, Quincy.

The Chestnut Room?

Arlington man rates berth on NU ball team

Returned servicemen hold the key to Northwestern university's baseball team that faces a 22 game schedule this spring. From an original turnout of 75 candidates Coach Wes Fry has a varsity squad of 30 men, half of whom are ex-servicemen.

Only seven lettermen are on the squad and two of these won their letters before the war. The freshmen ranks have produced several promising newcomers while the Navy V-12 unit is represented by a number of likely prospects. But the bulk of the squad consists of G. I. Joe's, many of whom played considerable baseball in the service.

One of the few players from last year who has clinched a regular assignment is Dick Bokelman, rangy right hander from Arlington Heights who was the team's leading hurler in 1945. Other pitchers include Don Glander of West Bend, Wis., reserve last year; Ronnie Schumacher, Dundee, a returned veteran who lettered in 1942; and Bill Stretton, husky left hander from Chicago, recently discharged from the service.

Antioch whips Barrington and Grant on track

Antioch defeated Barrington and Grant in a triangular track meet last Thursday by scoring 72½ points to Barrington's 56½ and Grant's 21. Dan Jones with three first places and Trieger with two led the Sequoits to their second track victory in as many starts. Jones' 15.5 mark in the high hurdles was remarkable. Illinois leads in G. I. training Illinois is leading the nation in the number of veterans in training under the G. I. Bill, with over 10,000 facilities approved for "on-the-job" training in the trades, in industry and the professions.

In addition, thousands of farm projects are being set up, where veterans will have an opportunity to learn practical farm management with 172 agricultural classes organized since Feb. 4th.

Employers are sending in requests for approvals at the rate of 100 to 150 a day, according to Administrator Homer G. Bradney of the Illinois Veterans Commission.

IVC Service Officer Walter S. Haynes at 41 So. Prospect ave. (above Walgreens) Park Ridge is available to advise veterans and assist them in filing applications for all types of education and training under the G. I. Bill.

In the future

Things to come — Jet propulsion for the children's toys. The principle, which is revolutionizing aviation, has been adapted in modified form to toy boats. Warm water with an added Alka Seltzer tablet or a mixture of vinegar and bicarbonate of soda fizzes through a hole in the rear of the boat, propelling it forward. A portable refrigerator for tourists. It is designed like a wooden case. A combination toaster-stove. On top of the cabinet is a heater for pots and pans; the toaster compartment is below. Butter shortage aid: It is a new electric whipper which can churn one and a half pounds of butter in a few minutes. The churn has an aluminum dasher and a clear glass barrel. A midgeet molding unit developed by Eastman Kodak with which children may mold their own plastic toys. Heat is supplied by electricity. A new device to count microbes in the air. About the size of a shoe box, it will help fight disease-bearing bacteria.

Your FURS Need Protection

Against

WEAR —

CLEAN at least once a year to prevent matting, which is the first sign of fur wearing out. GLAZE to straighten fur and bring back the original luster.

DETERIORATION —

STORE your furs in a proper cold air conditioned vault to prevent the natural oils in the leather from drying out, and to guard against moths.

FIRE AND THEFT —

It is advisable to secure an ALL
RISK-YEAR-ROUND INSURANCE
policy. This will lower your storage charges and at the same time give you the year around fire and theft protection.

We Correct An Error

in last week's paper. The advertising department of Paddock Publications in last week's announcement of Mayfair Products failed to state that the contest for bicycles is open exclusively to the younger members of the family — from eight years to through eighteen years. Sonny Klawans, of the Mayfair Products says:

We do not expect that the pas and mas will want bicycles. It is their boys and girls who have the opportunity to win one of the ten bikes that we are going to give away."

HELLO JUNIOR GARDENERS

How would you like a chance to win one of the ten Smart new Streamlined two wheel Bicycles we are giving away?

Our Garden Club contest — just starting for all the interested ambitious, aggressive Youth of our new community means planting, producing, picking pickles — the Mayfair way — spells pocket money, plus a possible bike.

The rules are simple — if you are between 8 and thru 18 years old — if you have a small lot — a yard or an acre — if you will grow pickles for our new plant.

ENROLL NOW

Secure an application blank by seeing our SONNY
KLAWANS Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, April 27, 29 and 30, between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. at our temporary office above the Arlington Heights National Bank.

He will announce convenient points to deliver your pickings — and to pick up your pocket money. Win or lose you will be paid for all the pickles you turn in.

THERE WILL BE A WINNER A WEEK FOR TEN WEEKS
starting week ending Saturday, August 18, 1946 — Ten Bikes in All.

The winner each week will be the one producing the greatest amount of pickles.
